

Oliver's Battery Primary School

Should I keep My Child At Home?

You do not have to display all three of the common symptoms to stay at home. Having one of the symptoms means you should stay at home and get a test. Symptoms may be very mild but if your child, or anyone in your household, has any of them they must self-isolate for at least 10 days and get a test.

https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/covid-19-stay-at-home-guidance