

HEDGEHOGS NEWSLETTER

FRIDAY 21ST
NOVEMBER 2025

We have had another wonderful week in Nursery, filled with exciting activities, lots of learning and plenty of opportunities for the children to explore their interests. It has been lovely to see their confidence continue to grow as they talk, play and work together. We've enjoyed watching their curiosity shine through in everything they do.

With the weather changing, we have been talking a lot about the seasons and how the weather affects what we wear and what we see around us. The children shared things they noticed on their way to Nursery, such as icy leaves, frost on the cars, and people wrapped up in hats and scarves. It has been a lovely way to explore the signs of Winter and build on their understanding of the world around them.

Whilst spotting signs of the changing weather in our Nursery environment, the children have enjoyed exploring the tuff tray where animals were frozen in ice. This sparked wonderful conversations about where different animals live, the features they have to survive, and what they like to eat. It has been a great way to link their curiosity about Winter to their growing understanding of the world.

This week, we have also added dressing up into our roleplay area. Instead of traditional character costumes, we introduced real-life items of clothing and accessories for the children to explore and use to become whoever they want to be. With just a few scarves, we saw an incredible range of imaginative characters from pirates and old ladies to witches, superheroes, brides and princesses. It was wonderful to see how one simple item could be interpreted in so many different ways by each child.

EXPLORE. LEARN AND DISCOVER!

We have started to learn our Nativity song, and this year all the children will be taking on the roles of different animals in our performance of 'A Wriggly Nativity'.

Next week we will be sending out a letter to let you know which animal your child will be in the Nativity, along with some simple costume ideas. Our performance will take place on Tuesday 9th December at 2:00pm, and we can't wait to share it with you all!
